

ENVISIONING PROJECTION IN ARCHITECTURE

Engaging with Geometrical Processes, Ideation and Projection Across Times

Palais Stoclet - Chronoscaphe. Graphic design by Romain Fontaine & Lola Perret (2022)

EAEA17 will center on the significance of projection in architecture, focusing on its role in design, representation, and study. It will explore the spaces in which projection is practiced, its applications, and its historical and theoretical dimensions. As a structuring system, projection involves the architect's thought processes and helps in understanding spatial contexts, linking representation, production, and comprehension of architectural projects. Through this theme, we aim to question projection's contributions to spatial conceptualisation, geometric structuring, and the examination of architectural projects' temporal dimensions.
